

Gates, while under criminal investigation, visits his boy Anthony

GLOBAL vaccine pusher and profiteer Bill Gates, who has been named in an international criminal investigation, quietly slithered into Australia on January 15th on one of his private jets to meet Prime Minister Anthony Albanese.

Gates casually dropped to Albanese that there's another pandemic on the way and he and his gang of criminals need to talk to Australia about "being prepared" for it. They also want to do business around "climate change and renewable energy".

Gates along with Anthony Fauci, the Pfizer company, Larry Fink's BlackRock financial conglomerate, World Health Organisation chief Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus and scientist Christian Drosten pushed ineffective, highly dangerous and lethal experimental vaccines on the global population in violation of the Nuremberg Code and criminal law.

A team of lawyers and other experts in various fields, led by prominent US-German lawyer Reiner Fuellmich, has called on every public citizen to recommend indictments against these leading pushers of the global, so-called pandemic response that blatantly violated existing medical protocol for dealing with pandemics.

We should note that Fuellmich has been in dispute with the co-founder of his previous Berlin Corona Investigative Committee and has reformed a new group called the International Crimes Investigative Committee.

As noted by one of the expert witnesses on the Fuellmich team, Dr Bryan Ardis, Gates and company pushed the dangerous and deadly drug Remdesivir as a "Covid treatment" but which killed thousands of men, women and children. At the same time they demonized other proven safe and effective treatments such as vitamin C, zinc, hydroxychloroquine and ivermectin - which they also demanded in vaccine contracts to be banned in Australia and other nations.

"I knew right away from the Gilead study, conducted two months earlier, that the entire kidney failure, multiple organ failure, was the result of Remdesivir and had nothing to do with the virus," the doctor said in a video released over the weekend by the Fuellmich team.

"I said in May 2020 - I went to the media - I said everyone needs to be warned that Anthony Fauci has declared a drug to be an answer to the pandemic ... he is going to hundreds of thousands if not millions of innocent Americans with this drug. So now you have liver failure, kidney failure, now heart failure caused by Remdesivir, published to do so. Guess what the only authorized drug to treat Covid in children is, in hospitals and outside? Remdesivir."

And that's only one aspect of the criminal investigation, aside from the fraud and lies and mass harm done by the mRNA vaccines themselves Fuellmich summed it up: “Ladies and gentlemen, this case is about a long-planned agenda of a group of ultra-rich people and their financial mafia based in the city of London and in Wall Street, to use a pseudo-pandemic as the guise behind which - while our attention is on the pandemic - to complete their decades-long efforts to gain full and complete control over all of us.”

Fuellmich went on to note that the World Economic Forum was the most important of the numerous platforms upon which this group meets. “Its members are a thousand global corporations (each) with at least $US5 billion in annual sales, politicians, media representatives, scientists, and other so-called high-profile personalities. Among the first graduates were Angela Merkel and Bill Gates in 1992.

But as if to underline his utter contempt for these serious criminal allegations, Gates sneaked to Australia to be welcomed by none other than the Prime Minister at Kirribilli House in Sydney, “to discuss climate, energy and vaccines in the Pacific”, Gates was reportedly not attending this year’s World Economic Forum, apparently because the delusional and greedy little piece of human scum is planning another pandemic and another round of multi-billion-dollar profits from dirty mRNA gene therapy injections.

Albanese, to his shame, was quoted by media as telling Gates “I’ve admired your work”. Albanese and his handlers know very well that Gates is universally hated over his so-called philanthropic activities, pushing the World Economic Forum agenda of a global, digitalized public health system which injects and tracks people like cattle.

Gates snuck into Australia with Gates Foundation members and representatives of his Breakthrough Energy company, “which drives innovation in sustainable energy and in technology to reduce greenhouse gas emissions”. Oh really Bill? Would that technology include batteries that rely on the slave labour of Congolese children used to extract bags of rare-earth minerals from tunnels in hillsides?

Albanese, after bowing and tugging his forelock in front of Gates, boasted that “My government was elected on a platform of taking climate change seriously - we introduced the first legislative caps of 43 per cent by 2030 and net zero by 2050,” the Prime Minister was reported as saying.

“We are engaged in setting a whole range of mechanisms that will drive private sector investment through,” he added. And Gates no doubt has just the private sector investment and party donations that Albanese is looking for. It was a cowardly and disgusting display of billionaire boot-licking that would embarrass many traditional Labour Party stalwarts.

The vaccine pusher then thanked the Albanese for his ‘great partnership’ on international health issues, including the Global Fund to Fight AIDS, tuberculosis and malaria - all dependent on Gates and his buddies vaccine products.

And then Gates casually dropped his warning to his boy Anthony: “A lot to do there as you say, the preparedness for the next pandemic is still a discussion that hasn’t been figured out,” he said, suddenly switching the conversation to malaria and polio as if to justify his own dirty schemes.

“Malaria in the long run we want to do the same thing we have done with polio which is eradicate it regionally then eradicate it all over the world.” Who Gates was referring to as “we” is rather strange, as Gates was a toddler when polio was being dealt with in the late 1950s.
